Writing in small print to be read by the teacher.

1. Writing words under pictures.

Children should look carefully. The following are for the teacher's instruction, not to be shown to the child:

toe; notes; bones (or three bones); nose; smoke; home.

2. Tracking

The child should first find the words containing the new sound, then read the passage. The next page checks for understanding. The child can refer back to the passage as needed.

3. Drawing

Look for evidence that the child has understood the story. Train the child to include as much detail in the picture as possible. Drawing helps to 'stick' the new sound in the memory and is a helpful tool to develop both reading comprehension and spelling.

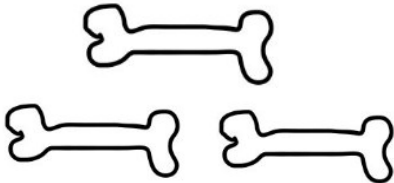

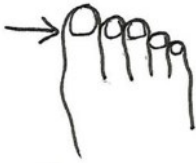

4. Be the Teacher: Proof reading is a time honoured strategy for helping children improve their spelling.

Ted fell off his bike. He hopes his toe mends soon.

Name _____

o-e

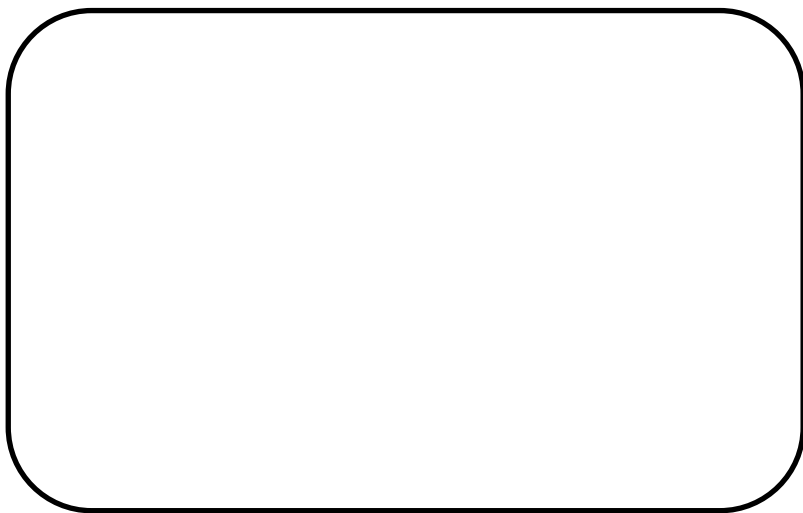

Write the words under the pictures. Colour the pictures.

Underline the sound 'o-e' in red. Read the passage.

It is no joke. Ted fell and broke a bone in his toe as he rode his bike up the hill. Tom will send him a note to say that he hopes his toe mends soon. It will be hard for Ted to have to sit at home with his foot on a stool.

Draw Ted at home with his foot on a stool.

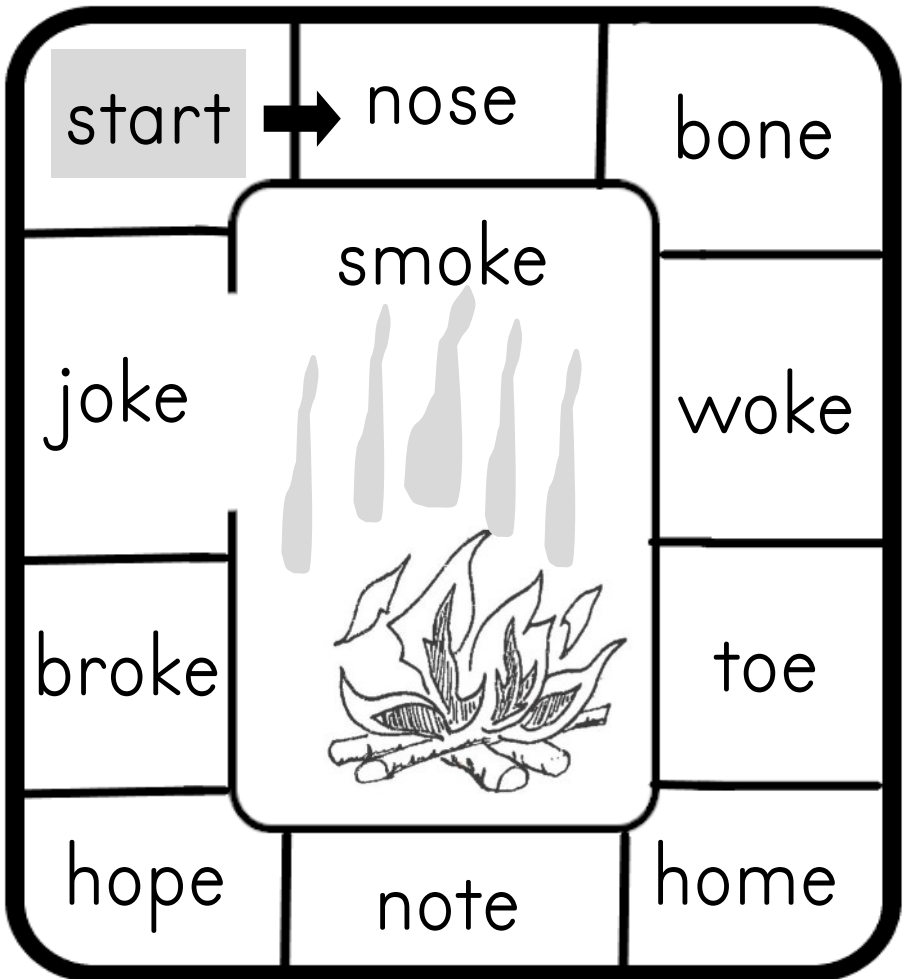

Why will it be hard for Ted to sit at home with his foot on a stool?

Fire!

Get a dice and two counters. Play with a partner. Your task is to get to the fire first to put it out! Throw the die and move your counter the number of spaces shown on the die around the board to reach the fire in the middle. When you land on a word, read it.

Not the first to reach the fire? Keep playing until you are!
